

ABSTRACT

[0153] Disclosed in certain embodiments is a method of treating pain in a patient comprising orally administering an opioid antagonist in an effective amount to provide analgesia in a patient in need thereof.